

impera roma red blend

- Cesanese is the grape of ancient Rome, and Impera has revived this classic grape!
- This blend is primarily led by the Roman grape Cesanese, and is also blended with Violone (Montepulciano), Sangiovese, and Syrah.
- Grown in the Roma.DOC appellation which lies within the Lazio region, and is one of the newest appellations in Italy (established in 2011)
- Look for crisp, tannic fruit like tart cherries, strawberries, dark plums and sage all in a medium bodied wine with light pepper notes. Very food friendly.
- The best fit for Cacio e Pepe, and also other pastas, cheese & pork.

impera roma red blend

- Cesanese is the grape of ancient Rome, and Impera has revived this classic grape!
- This blend is primarily led by the Roman grape Cesanese, and is also blended with Violone (Montepulciano), Sangiovese, and Syrah.
- Grown in the Roma.DOC appellation which lies within the Lazio region, and is one of the newest appellations in Italy (established in 2011)
- Look for crisp, tannic fruit like tart cherries, strawberries, dark plums and sage all in a medium bodied wine with light pepper notes. Very food friendly.
- The best fit for Cacio e Pepe, and also other pastas, cheese & pork.

impera roma red blend

- Cesanese is the grape of ancient Rome, and Impera has revived this classic grape!
- This blend is primarily led by the Roman grape Cesanese, and is also blended with Violone (Montepulciano), Sangiovese, and Syrah.
- Grown in the Roma.DOC appellation which lies within the Lazio region, and is one of the newest appellations in Italy (established in 2011)
- Look for crisp, tannic fruit like tart cherries, strawberries, dark plums and sage all in a medium bodied wine with light pepper notes. Very food friendly.
- The best fit for Cacio e Pepe, and also other pastas, cheese & pork.